AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

AND FOR THE RELIEF OF PATIENTS IN ADVANCED STAGES OF CONSUMPTION.

Many years of trial, instead of impairing the public confidence in this medicine, has won for it an appreciation and notoriety by far exceeding the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues and the undeniable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies that, upon the community, have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

While it is a fraud upon the public to pretend that any one medicine will infallibly cure—still there is abundant proof that the Cherry Pectoral does not only a general thing, but almost invariably, cure the maladies for which it is employed.

As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabins of the American peasant, to the palaces of European Kings. Throughout this entire country, in every State, city, town, indeed almost every hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best remedy extant, for diseases of the Throat and Lungs—and in many foreign countries, it is coming to be extensively used by their most intelligent Physicians. In Great Britain, France and Germany, where the medical sciences have reached their highest perfection, Cherry Pectoral is introduced, and in constant use in the Armies, Hospitals, Alms Houses, Public Institutions, and in domestic practice as the surest remedy their attending Physicians can employ for the more dangerous affections of lungs. Also in milder cases, and for children it is safe, pleasant and effectual to cure. In fact, some of the most flattering testimonials We receive flow been from parents who have found it efficacious in cases particularly incident to childhood.

The Cherry Pectoral is manufactured by a practical Chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration.

We have endeavoured here to furnish the community with a medicine of such intrinsic superiority and worth as should commend itself to their confidence—a remedy at once safe, speedy and effectual, which thus has by repeated and countless trials proved itself to be; and trust by great care in preparing it with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength to afford Physicians a new agent, on which they can rely for the best results, and the afflicted with a remedy that will do for them all that medicine can do.

PREPARED AND SOLD BY J. C. AYER, DRUGGIST and CHEMIST, LOWELL, MASS.

Sold in Bangor at wholesale and retail, by INGRAHAM & FULLER, also by G. W. Emerson, A. P. Guild, G. F. Sargent, Druggists, Bucksport; G. L. Bradley & Co; Belfast, Wm. O. Poor, Ellsworth, B. Nourse; Hampden, Isaac Snow, and by the Druggists generally throughout the country.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR Coughs, Colds and Consumptions.

The VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM is probably without a parallel in having, during a period of more than Twenty five years, fully maintained the high reputation which it has acquired, for CONSUMPTIVE COMPLAINTS, and all DISEASES of the LUNGS, THROAT and CHEST. It has been used with probably greater success than any other little trifling, and Dangerous ones have had an opportunity of witnessing its highly salutary effects recommend it as a safe and very efficacious medicine, equal if not superior, to any other prescription for the above complaints within their knowledge. The basis of this Medicine was a private recipe of a distinguished Physician in one of the neighboring States, and was presented by an individual to whom it gave the most astonishing relief. It is composed of vegetables, and, used according to direction, must be perfectly safe.

From Messrs. Allen & Co., Merchants, Cincinnati—"Those persons who have used the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam, uniformly speak of it as a valuable medicine, and from the quantity sold, notwithstanding the numerous other preparations used for similar complaints, we consider it first on the list."

ALLEN & CO.

The Editor of the Seneca Falls Courier says—"We have had occasion to witness the good effects of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in our family, in case of a young lady who has been not only cured of Consumption by the use of it, and also in several coughs and colds, and cheerfully bear testimony to its being a safe, convenient and very efficacious medicine in cases of that description."—Co. Courier.

A Clergyman from Philadelphia writes, that he has been in the habit of using the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in his family, for the last thirteen years, and in consequence of recommending it to his friends, he considers it an invaluable remedy for all pulmonary complaints.

"For the last five years of my practice I have had the satisfaction to witness the beneficial effects of Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in many cases of obstinate cough and other affections of the lungs. I would therefore confidently recommend its use to all consumptives of the chest, as being equal, if not superior, to any other medicine within my knowledge."

Lampeter, N. H.

BOSTON, January 7, 1835.

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia, have suffered much from the want of a skillful workman in accommodating Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases, I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr J. F. Foster, to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr. Heath. After some months of observation of his work, I am well satisfied that Mr. Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and ingenious in accommodating them to the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to those important articles.

JOHN C. WARREN, M. D. Boston

CERTIFICATE. The following certificate is from Professor Stuart, of Andover Theological Seminary:

The undersigned having occasion to employ Mr J. Mr Foster's success in these cases, and his keeping the patient free from giving pain or inconvenience, are the surest guaranties for all who may favor Mr F. that his instruments will give entire satisfaction, and he will satisfy all reasonable demands for an equitable compensation.

Self Acquired Fame!

DR. JOHNSON'S
AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT.
For Internal and External Use.

THIS wonderful Medicine, notwithstanding it has never had the advantage of newspaper publicity, has yet acquired a higher and more extended popularity than any other similar compound in the world. It is entirely of vegetable extract, perfectly safe to be administered even to the most delicate child, and alike astonishing and satisfactory in its effects upon man or beast. To those unacquainted with this invaluable medicine we say, Give it a fair trial, and we promise you a radical cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Spitting of Blood, and all Lung Complaints; Chronic Diarrhœa, and Dysentery; in all of which cases it should be used internally. The effects of its external application in cases of Rheumatism, Spinal Diseases, Sprains, Chapped Hands, Bruises, Burns, and all descriptions of wounds, are magical. Persons troubled with Cramp in the Stomach, Side, or Bowels, Sore Throat, Piles, &c., by a combined internal and external application of this Anodyne, cannot fail of certain and speedy cure. The proprietor can produce volumes of testimonials in its favor, but prefers to let it carry its own recommendations, as it has done for forty years past. We ask no man to use it after an unsatisfactory trial. In its compositions it unites several of the most penetrating and healing specifics known to the materia medica.—The inventor of this article was in the constant and successful practice of medicine for more than twenty years.

This is to certify that having been troubled for a number of years with a distressing cough and bleeding at the lungs, and receiving a furnace from a friend, and in fact I was to all appearance, in the last stage of consumption. My legs swelled so that I was unable to stand or help myself. At that time your Liniment was providentially recommended to me, and by the use of three or four bottles I was entirely cured, and have been able to labor every day. I have not so far the last twenty years been so just to severe attacks of bloody dysentery, and never found any permanent relief until I took your Liniment, since which I have had no return of this complaint. I can truly say I think your Anodyne Liniment was the means of saving my life. JOHN TEATKINE.

Brewer, Sept. 29, 1852.

Dr. Johnson: Dear Sir—In consequence of having a fever sore on my leg, it became entirely stiff at the knee, and it was decided by the best surgeons that my leg must be amputated—but fortunately I heard of your Anodyne Liniment, and by using three bottles, my leg was limber and strengthened, and for a number of years I have been able to use it about as well as the other. I consider myself indebted to the use of your Liniment, through the blessing of Providence, for the use of my leg, and would say to others who may need help, try it, and no doubt you will be cured. SOME THINGS LOVE ME.

BY T. B. READ.

All will bind and all without me
Feel a melancholy thrill;
And the darkness hangs about me,—
Oh, how still!

To my foot the river glideth
Through the shadow, sullen, dark;
On the stream, the white moon rideth,
Like a barque.

And the linden leans above me
Till I think some things there be
In this dreary world that love me,—
Even me!

Gentle flowers are springing near me,
Shedding sweetest breath around;
Countless voices rise to cheer me
From the ground.

And the lone bird comes—I hear it
In the tall and windy pine!
Pour the sweetness of its spirit
into mine!

There it swings and sings above me,
Till I think some things there be
In this dreary world that love me,—
Even me!

Now the moon hath floated to me,
On the stream I see it sway,
Swinging, lest it see, as it would woo me
Far away;

And the stars look from the azure,—
I could reach them where I lie,
And they whisper all the pleasure
Of the sky.

There they hang and smile above me,
Till I think some things there be
In the very heavens that love me,—
Even me!

SOMETHING NEW FOR THE LAUNDRY. We were reading the other day, that the bungling Chinese, instead of heating their smoothing irons upon the fire, put fire into their irons, which are made hollow for the purpose of receiving it. This circumstance was mentioned by the writer as a proof of Chinese stupidity, and we little thought the idea could be made available in the enlightened parts of the earth. Our astonishment was considerable, therefore, when a few days ago two of the mighty sons of Kentucky entered our office, and placed upon the desk a contrivance for ironing, which embodied the very notion for which the Chinese were ridiculed—but of course so improved upon that, not a washerwoman in all the Celestial empire would recognize it. The new Kentucky smoothing iron is simply a small air tight stove with a wooden handle, and polished, steel bottom, resembling in shape and weight a common iron, with the addition of a chimney, for the escape of the smoke. It is used in the following manner:—the top of the iron is removed, and a fire made in the body of it, with charcoal broken to the size of a hickory nut. The top is replaced, and the fire burns up and heats the iron in about ten minutes. The heat is regulated by a little door, in the back part, precisely on the air-tight principle. Open the door and the fire is quiescent—shut it and it will remain in statu quo. The fire will burn without replenishing for two hours. The quantity of fuel consumed in a day costs one cent. There is no waste of time in going to the fire for a flat iron; no waste of strength in rubbing it clean, and there is no necessity for the person ironing to work in too warm a room, or in any room at all. The contrivance has been practically tested, and we are assured that it answers its purpose well. In the west it has already been extensively introduced.—Home Journal.

Beautiful Sentiment.

A man without some sort of religion is, at the best, a poor tri rebate, the foot ball of destiny, with no tie linking him to infinity and the wondrous eternity that is within him; but a woman without it, is ever worse; and a flame without heat, a rainbow without color, a flower without perfume.

A man may in some sort tie his frail hope and honors, with weak, shifting ground tackle, to his business of the world, but a woman, without that anchor which they call Faith, is adrift and a wreck. A man may clumsily continue a kind of spiritual faith. A man may craze his thoughts and his brain to thoughtfulness in such poor harbourages. Fame, and reputation may stretch before him, but a woman, where can she put her hope in storms if not in heaven?

And that sweet truthfulness; that abiding love; that enduring hope, mellowing every scene of life, lightening them with the pleasantest radiance; when the world's cold storms break like an army with smoking cannon, what can bestow it all but a holy soul fled to what is stronger than an army with cannon? Who that has enjoyed the love of a good loving mother, but will echo the thought with energy, and hallow it with a tear?

A Clear Race.

It would be well if all passengers could keep themselves as firmly aloof from excitement in a steamboat race as a venerable friend of Rhode Island did, on the occasion of a race between two contending steamers, on one occasion, in Long Island sound visible advantage on either side for a great distance, and groups of excited persons were on the deck, discussing the several chances of triumph, and finally appealed to the friend, in question:

"Don't you think we've gain'd on her in coming the last forty miles?"

"Yes," replied the Quaker, with imperturbable gravity, "I should say, from present appearances that she had."

"Do you? Well, Mr. Brown, how much should you think we have gained upon her?"

"I may be mistaken," replied our friend, "for I have small gifts at correctly calculating differences of distance; but I should think that in the last fifty miles we had gained upon her about half an inch!"

He was too close an observer to be bothered with any further questioning from the excited bystanders.—N. H. Patriot.

IRON SHIPS.—As a good deal of attention has lately been given to iron ships, it may be interesting to ship-owners to know that the iron bark Richard Cobden, now being overhauled in No. 1, Canning Graving dock, was on Wednesday last, bored through one of apparently the worst and most corroded plates in her, Mr. W. F. Sim, the managing owner, being anxious to ascertain what the actual diminution in thickness would prove, after eight years' thrashing about between this and the East. The result was that the plate operated upon turned out to be precisely the same thickness that it was when the ship was launched in 1844—namely, 9-16ths of an inch, on the sixth tier from the keel. The only part of the vessel which, on examination, exhibited any corrosion, and that only slightly, was the bow, where the anchor and chain had chafed the paint or coating with which the vessel is covered, as a preservative, and which appears to perform its office effectually.—[Liverpool Albion.

It is an extraordinary fact that those who get to high words generally use very low language.

What state of bondage is worse than that of a small servant girl under the dominion of a tyrannical baby!
